FIDES (Forum sur les Interactions entre le Droit, l'Economie et la Société

Forum on the interactions between Law, Economics and Society (FILES)

<http://www.fides.institute>):

- NGO, not for profit, incorporated under the Freedom of Association Act, 1901;
- Think tank which supports and launches multidisciplinary researches on the interaction between Law and Economics
- One publication / year; one conference / quarter
- Saint Sauveur Workshop: 2019, 2021, 2022...2024

1. The FIDES approach & Interactions between law, economics and society

- FIDES: a think tank and an “ideas Lab”
 - The gear-box between a) decision and policy makers and b) researchers and academics
 - In France, a duty to discuss and work together
 - A necessity in all postmodern democracy: To enlighten the public debate in order to facilitate decision-making and public policy through rigorous, forward-looking and always comparative analyses, accompanied by concrete proposals;
 - To bring together academics, practitioners and decision-makers in an atmosphere of dialogue to produce original analyses and solutions
 - An “ideas (or thought) lab”: To constitute, without any theoretical dogmatism, a reference center and a manufacture of policy proposals, at national and international level, on the interactions between Law and Economics

1. The FIDES approach & Interactions between law, economics and society

- This reflects in FIDES production:
 - Several concepts have been already created by its members:
"Attractivité économique du droit", "Financement 4P",
"Jurisdiversité", etc
 - The topics of the previous editions of the FIDES :
 - 2019: Interactions between Law and Economics in a contrasted society
 - (with my own contribution: The moral rearmament of social democracy:
what contribution for the interaction between Law and Economics?)
 - 2020 (cancelled) and 2022: Interactions between Law, Economics and Society in a Digital World
 - 2021 (online): The “Day after” from the perspective of the Interactions between Law, Economics and Society
 - 2024: Interactions between Law and Economics in disrupted time

1. The FIDES approach & Interactions between law, economics and society

- Five topics:
 1. Economic attractiveness of the law
 2. Competition and market regulation
 3. Economic Impact assessment of law and public policy
 4. Sustainable Finance and business and alternative Financing such as 4P
 5. Digitalization of the Economy and Society
- Deliverables:
 - FIDES organizes an event about every 6 weeks,
 - publishes or supports a book a year and
 - disseminates the many contributions made by its members to public debate (press articles, radio, etc.).
 - Since 2019, the "Entretiens des Orres / Saint Sauveur" have brought its

1. The FIDES approach & Interactions between law, economics and society

- Interactions between law and economics:
 - A long lasting debate, if not conflict, between French lawyers and (orthodox) economists
 - Whereas economics is crucial in the formation of law and regulation
 - But a different approach to L&E, and to economic analysis of Law: to start from lawyers, from a continental EU perspective
- & Society: a Multidisciplinary approach
 - No sectoral specialization but a methodology of dialog: “it makes me think, in my discipline / field/.. About that:
 - ⇒ For lawyers: Economic impact of law;
 - ⇒ for economists: better specification of assumptions and model

2. General considerations on the 2024 Workshop

- Interactions between Law and Economics in disrupted time:
 - More an excuse than a real constraint
 - Many factor of disruptions:
 - Russian aggression towards Ukraine; Israel – Hamas War;
 - New wave of IT , especially: AI
 - The longer term disruption of environmental transition

3. General Mood and methodology: BIEN

- .Benevolent
- .Intellectually stimulating
- .Enjoyable
- .Novation
